RESEARCH FUNDING

Active Research Support:

Grant#	2R01HL075263-05	01/01/2010-12/31/2013
Agency	National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute
Title	Long-Term Outcomes and Costs of Web-Based Hypertension Care (e-BPLT)
Major Goals:	Hypertension (HTN) is the most common chronic condition in the U.S., affecting almost 1 in 3 adults; but it remains inadequately treated in most. Clinic-based health services interventions have achieved success in reducing BP and improving HTN control. However, a gap exists in the scientific literature and policy experience regarding these effects' durability. We will study the long term effectiveness and cost effectiveness of the Electronic Communications and Home Blood Pressure Monitoring Trial (e-BP Long Term).
Role:	Principal Investigator
Grant#	1RC1HL100590-01	09/30/2009-09/29/2011
Agency	National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute
Title	Collaborative Behavioral e-Care to Decrease Cardiovascular Risk (e-Compare)
Major Goals:	Adults with high blood pressure (BP) and obesity are at higher risk for heart disease and strokes. A recent study (e-BP) showed that patients who monitored their BP at home and received pharmacist care over the Web had improved BP control. We will be studying whether similar care delivered by dietitians over the Web leads to improved BP control and weight loss.
Role:	Principal Investigator

Grant# R01 CA121125-01A2 (Green) 08/1/2009-7/31/2011 $3,200,000.00
Agency National Cancer Institute
Title Systems of Support to Improve Colorectal Cancer Screening and Follow-up Administrative Supplement Award

Major Goals: This administrative supplement to the SOS randomized controlled trial has 3 aims:
(1) To perform time to event analyses for CRCS to determine the contribution of different intervention components (mailings, phone reminds, nurse support, birthday reminds). (2) To assess psychological stress related to a positive CRCS test. (3)
To assess adherence rates and performance of one and two sample Fecal Immunochemical Tests (FIT) compared to the Guaiac-based three sample SENSEA test.

Role: Principal Investigator

Grant# 3R01CA121125-03S1 (Green) 8/1/2009-7/31/2011 $466,000.00
Agency National Cancer Institute
Title ARRA Administrative Supplement

Major Goals: Sub-aim #1: To investigate time-to event analyses of CRCS between usual care and the 3 SOS intervention groups. Sub-aim #2: To determine the adherence and positive predictive value rates (PPV) of a high-sensitivity guaiac-based fecal occult blood test (SENSEA) to two validated fecal immunochemical tests (OC-Micron and InSure tests). Sub-aim #3: To measure potential short and long-term psychological consequences of positive fecal screening.

Role: Principal Investigator

Grant # 5U48DP000050 (Taylor) 9/30/2004-12/2013
Agency: CDC
Title: SIP 16-04 PRC Cancer Control and Prevention Network

Major Goals: To participate in meetings and workgroups (colon cancer and worksite interventions) and some national networking functions. To work with Group Health and Group Health Research Institute to find collaborative opportunities to improve cancer prevention and control and in particular to implement findings from the Community Task Force, related to cancer.

Role: Key Investigator

Grant# Institute of Translational Health Services (Baldwin, Green) 06/1/2010-05/31/2011
Agency: Institute of Translational Health
Title: Using Electronic Communications to Improve Hypertension in the Community (eCHIP)

Major Goals: This proposal develops partnerships with 2 small town community-based practices in Idaho and Eastern Washington to translate a successful Web-based pharmacist care model for improving blood pressure control into community settings. We will gather qualitative data from practices and patients.

Grant # 1 R01HL089444-01A1 (Patrick) 7/25/2008-12/31/2013
Agency National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute
Title: Planned CORR: Planned Care for Obesity and Risk Reduction

Major Goals: To integrate interventions based on behavioral theory with a health delivery strategy (The Chronic Care Model, Wagner et al; 2001). The aim of this project is to explore how to improve the way primary care providers provide services to their patients who are overweight and who also have other important medical conditions or health risks such as hypertension, smoking or high cholesterol. Because these patients require a complicated treatment course that includes regular use of medications and individual or group health behavior counseling, their needs are often poorly addressed. This study will explore the use of a systems-based approach to improve these services.

Role: Consultant

Completed Research

Grant # 5 R01 HL075263 (Green) 8/1/2004-2/28/2009

Agency: National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute

Title: Electronic Communications & Home B.P. Monitoring

Major Goals: To test the use of the Chronic Care Model to improve hypertension control. To test the use of home blood pressure monitoring and the use of Web based communication to improve hypertension control. To test the use of home blood pressure monitoring and use of Web based communication with the health care team with the addition of proactive and interactive pharmaceutical care and self-management support to improve hypertension control. To determine utilization and incremental cost-effectiveness of each intervention.
